

Date Claimer - The Debate, July 14th

The Management Committee has been discussing ways of making the General Meetings more interesting to encourage more members to attend and one thought was to have debates as well as largely social evenings.

Next meeting on Wednesday 14th July at 6.30pm, the activity is a debate with two teams arguing for and against vegetarianism. The topic is "That Eating Meat Harms the Environment". Given the convictions of both sides it should be both entertaining and informative.

As it is also Bastille Day, France's national day we thought to make it extra special by serving French vegetarian food. Contributions from our audience would be welcomed.

We look forward to seeing you at Gecko House.
